Well here we are again, more Yawara for the fans It's been decided from now on that we will be using a batch release setup as many of you have noticed from this This is easy on us now that we're short on staff due to school and or work taking up everyones time. It also gives us the chance to work on a few other projects in the future without having to rush out a new release every few days etc I'm sure you guys will enjoy this new setup also since you get more manga in one stop then before.

Here's another chapter for you from me and so on. One thing I'd like to mention is the small little comic cut-outs that I've been doing so far. I don't know if you've found them funny or just stupid, but I think I'm going to keep on going along with the idea. And this time around it's going to be a special two parter making up for chapter 16 since I didn't edit that one. Enjoy the mini-comic.

Translator Note: Regarding Page 14 panel 3. The man uses a Japanese proverb which is literally "Juu yoku gou wo saisu" (Softness controls strength well). The best suitable English proverb that I could find was "Willows are weak, yet they bind other wood". It should also be noted that the 'Juu' in the proverb is the same one as in "Judo" which means (the way of softness). It's also the same chinese character as the one used for Yawara's name.

Editors Note: Happy New Year to all, And I hope you like this extra long chapter.
